DEVELOPMENT ACADEMY OF THE PHILIPPINES (DAP)

Overview

The Development Academy of the Philippines (DAP) is a government-owned and controlled corporation established in June 1973 and is mandated to assist the country's development efforts in two ways: as change catalyst and as capacity-builder. As change catalyst, DAP has played the role of "think tank" of government and has continued to shape new government policies, craft innovative development programs and modernize the management of government agencies and private enterprises. Among the unconventional programs and approaches it pioneered are "social weather stations", experiential learning, participatory strategic planning, values-driven leadership development and organizational change management.

As capacity-builder, it has enabled people and institutions, especially those in public and community service, to carry out their tasks effectively. It continues to provide high-quality professional services to its clients and anchors the exchange of ideas, expertise and experiences on development with other development institutions. DAP has undertaken a number of development projects funded by bilateral and multilateral donor agencies in the field of program development, project management, capacity-building and institutional development.

Vision

DAP is a change facilitating institution that endows development with a human face. We see DAP as a preferred provider of development services, distinguishing its work as a partnership among government, private sector and civil society. Treating our work as an important contribution to God's loving plan, we see it benefiting, in particular, the disadvantaged sector of our society.

Mission

We support the overall development thrusts and initiatives of the nation. This we do by:

- ◆ Pursuing innovations in governance, organization development and productivity guided by a philosophy of sustainable human development
- ◆ Building lasting capacities in its key stakeholders
- ◆ Fostering partnerships among government, private sector and civil society
- ◆ Reaching out through consultancy, training, education, research and publications
- ◆ Initiating the exchange of ideas and expertise on development in Asia and the Pacific

Technical Services

DAP offers training and education, technical assistance and consultancy, research, advocacy and publications in the areas of governance, productivity and quality and organization development. It implements projects for government particularly national line agencies, local government units and government corporations. It also undertakes projects for the private sector such as international donor agencies, private corporations, non-government organizations and the academe.
